TENNIS MATCH THIS AFTERNOON

Hollywood vs. Glendale—Interesting Contests Anticipated—The Approaching Tournament

Great interest is manifested among local players in the matches to be played this afternoon between the Hollywood and Glendale teams on the grounds of the Country Club. Whether the visitors win or lose, it is the intention of the Glendale players and their friends to make their visit as enjoyable as possible. The visiting players will be the following: Eastman, Tinley, Lewis, Brower, Hoover and Shaw. The doubles are: Hoover-Eastman, Tinley-Lewis, Brown-Shaw.

The local players will be Stanton, Howe, Balthus, McLafferty, Keating, Blue, Doubles, Stanton-Balthus, McLafferty-Howe, Keating-Blue. The games will begin about 12:30 on both the Club and High School courts.

The Annual San Fernando Valley Tennis Tournament inaugurated last year so successfully by Mr. Brand, will come off Sept. 19th and 26th. Details will appear later. The features will be open entries for Juniors and Seniors, mixed doubles, ladies and gents' singles and gents' doubles. There will be prizes given by Mr. Brand. There is a prospect for a greatly increased interest in these affairs and much harder contests than were the rule last year. Local players should send entries in soon to Mr. McLafferty, the secretary of the country club.

The city attorney and engineer were instructed to prepare deeds conveying to the city of Glendale a fifty-foot strip of land on the Childs Tract east line between Third and Fourth streets and between Fourth and Fifth streets, for street purposes. The city attorney was instructed to draft resolution of intention to abandon the alley in block 61.

Same instructions given in regard to Belmont street from First street to Second, and from Fourth street to Fifth street.

THE PRISCILLAS.

Mrs. Smith of West Fourth street very pleasantly entertained the Priscilla club on Wednesday. Mrs. Smith is a new member, and charmed all present with her happy method of entertainment. While the ladies sewed she gave a practical talk upon every-day hygiene in home work, giving many little illustrations applicable to everyday duties.

Before dispersing the members enjoyed the dainty collation served. The majority of members were present.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

There is a gradually increasing inquiry and demand for Glendale property, and this does not exclude adjoining sections, Tropic, Casa Verdugo, etc. Our whole neighborhood is growing with a rapidity which is realized only by a few whose business requires them to be more or less in direct touch with all sections. Now and then a lot owner compelled to realize on something puts his property in the hands of an agent to dispose of, and if the price is at all low, it changes hands very rapidly, as there is plenty of money lying in wait for opportunities of this description. Building operations continue in a satisfactory condition; one of our lumber yards sold lumber for three houses in one day this week, and the business done daily is very satisfactory.

Mr. J. P. Lukens is starting his new house on Verdugo Road and Fourth street. A large amount of cement work is being put in including foundation and a commodious cellar. It will be, when completed, quite the finest residence in this section, probably costing $4000. Mr. C. E. Shattuck is the architect.

Mr. Bright lately from Hollywood is building on Mary street between First and Second, a story and half cottage to cost about $2500. Chandler & Lawson are erecting a small house on Central avenue in the Vineyard tract, which will probably cost $1500. Mr. Lawson is building another house on the lot adjoining his home on Seventh street. Mr. McConnell is building a neat bungalow near Casa Verdugo which will cost about $1700.

Fred Deal is putting up a house on Louise street near Second street about in the $1800 class. Mr. Thatcher on East Second street near Verdugo Road is remodeling his house with the addition of several features in the way of improvements.

Mr. Steele on Fifth street and Columbus avenue is building a small cottage. Mr. J. C. Lennox is starting a small house on Ivy street between Fifth and Sixth. Mr. George Dodson, Oak Drive near Columbus, is adding additional rooms and porches to his residence. Mr. H. Gilliland's new residence on Fifth street in the Orange Grove tract, east of Glendale avenue, is growing rapidly. It will cost about $1500.

The Overton Realty Co. report the following sales made during the week: The five-room modern cottage near completion, owned by Mrs. Potter and located on Sixth street between Louise and Kenwood streets, sold to Mrs. L. W. Ginn for $1,600. Mrs. Ginn will take possession next week and improve the property.

A lot on Orange street, between Fifth and Sixth street, owned by Alice T. Clark, sold to J. C. Lennox for $500. There are a good many lookers, and several other deals are pending.

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

Notable Social Event This Evening.

There was a well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the members of the club last Saturday evening. The business to be attended to was the making of arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the tennis players and their friends from Hollywood this afternoon at the club house. It was announced that the Hollywood Club was to be invited to attend a dance and reception here, to be given this evening and that it was desirable that Glendale do its best in the way of hospitality. The part of receiving the guests in the afternoon was turned over to the ladies' auxiliary of the club, and committees on decorations, refreshments, etc., were appointed by Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, acting president in the absence of Mrs. Shattuck. It was arranged also that some automobiles be in attendance to convey guests around the valley and show them the attractive features of our town and surroundings.

The players of both teams are to be the guests of Mr. L. C. Brand at Casa Verdugo for supper. That popular resort will also be prepared to serve all comers with the Spanish dishes for which it is justly celebrated. The dance in the evening promises to be an unusually enjoyable affair, as every effort will be made to render it the best that can be gotten up.

After the business meeting last Saturday evening the floor at the club room was cleared and nearly every one present indulged in a social dance until a late hour.

The membership has now almost reached the one hundred mark and still new candidates are appearing. The spacious rooms at the club house are none too large to accommodate members and their invited guests on special occasions.

Local Happenings

Miss May Cornwell left on Friday for a week's visit to Santa Barbara and Ventura.

Mrs. W. A. Talbott is at the Sanitarium convalescing after a serious surgical operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lee have gone to their old home in New London, Iowa, for a two months' visit.

Mrs. M. V. Colburn spent the week-end in Highland Park visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Moore.

Postmaster Fancet is recovering from an attack of rheumatism which confined him to the house for several days.

Miss Florence Magowan and her mother have returned from a visit of two or three months' duration to their old home in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Mary Coote, formerly for several years a resident of Glendale spent Sunday at Somerset Farm visiting her friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sherer.

Mr. Fitch, formerly connected with the Glendale Sanitarium, called at the NEWS office this week. He is spending a vacation with his mother on Jackson street.

Mrs. Mudge, Miss Green and Miss Harris attended on Wednesday afternoon the reception held in the new Y. M. C. A. building for those interested in the enterprise.

Mrs. and Mrs. R. M. Neill of Fifth and Vermont streets visited the beach last Sunday and while there had the pleasure of visiting with their old friend and neighbor, Dr. Riley of Downey.

Mrs. Helen Frazar, teacher of china painting and water colors, has opened a studio at her home on Seventh street, west of Glendale avenue. Mrs. Frazar has lately come to Glendale from Boston and will be pleased to show specimens of her work.

Pinkham & McKevitt have packed and shipped from the Goodell packing house, five cars of Halsey Japan plums, grown in La Crescenta, the past month. The returns now coming in are reported as fairly satisfactory. They are now packing lemons.

J. L. Overton and wife spent Monday and Tuesday last in Pomona. They report the burial at Pomona on Monday of Mrs. Hawkins, mother-in-law of J. D. Cason. She was 85 years of age and has a host of friends in the county, particularly in Pomona valley.

Capt. Geo. B. Mock, who with his family has been cruising around Santa Barbara, Catalina and San Diego for the past two or three weeks, has returned home. He comes back in robust health, satisfied with the performance of his trim little launch, and the rejuvenating influences of fresh air and salt water.

On Sunday a party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. John Addison, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Andrews, and Miss Laura V. Bulkeley, made a trip to Mt. Lowe and like all others who take the trip, found it a very beautiful one. Mr. Addison and Mr. Andrews went to the summit, whether they climbed the flag pole or not, they refuse to tell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Banker have returned from their visit to San Diego and Old Mexico near the line. Mr. Banker furnishes us with a picture of the gasoline motor car that is now in use on the Cuyomaca railroad out of San Diego. It has a substantial and commodious appearance and would certainly not be regarded as detrimental to any community which it might invade.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lee have been enjoying a week's visit from Mr. J. E. Kunath and wife of Washington, Ia., and Mr. Kunath's mother, from Creston, Ia. The two families were intimate friends in Iowa for many years, and the visit to Glendale was in the nature of a pleasant reunion. Mr. Kunath's party are touring the coast, having spent some time in Washington and Oregon.

The Democratic meeting held at Odd Fellows hall Saturday night was a most peaceful and harmless affair. Probably it was more peaceful than it would have been had there been anything doing. For some reason the speakers failed to materialize. A few of the faithful hung around until they found that the oratory was not going to arrive and then adjourned without even taking up a collection.

The Glendale Bakery is to be congratulated upon securing the services of Mr. Lewis Foy, who came out here a short time ago from our old time home in Chester county, Penna., and brought with him the secret of making those pies, cakes and things for which that section is famous. There have been bakers in our town whose intentions were doubtless honorable—but, well they didn't come from Pennsylvania. Mr. Foy still has his family at Hollywood, but we hope to see him settle down here and grow up with us.

Mr. Earl B. Valentine, himself a tennis player, desires to organize an association among the tennis players of Glendale and Tropic, so that a team can be selected and preparations made to meet all comers in the tennis world. In order to get the matter under way a meeting will be held at the residence of Mr. Valentine on Fifth street east of Adams this evening. All who who are interested in the game, particularly all who have private courts, are invited to be present.

On next Wednesday the tennis team of St. Vincent's college, Los Angeles, is expected in Glendale to meet our local players on one or more of the local courts.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

You are cordially invited to attend revival meetings in Grand Army Hall, Glendale avenue, commencing Sunday evening next, September 6, at 7:45, and every evening during the week. Conducted by Rev. J. W. Utter of the Christian church.

A GLENDALE LEMON ORCHARD.

An Object Lesson for Pessimists.

Whenever we run across a pessimist, one of those fellows who can't see value in California lands beyond what can be got out of them in a crop of corn or potatoes, we delight in showing him the Lukens lemon orchard, and in telling him of the time we remember when it was a patch of sage brush with as many cotton tail rabbits to the acre as could be found anywhere hereabouts. Further than that we tell him that the man who planted the seed, budded the trees, and brought it up to its present state of wonderful productivity and profit, was a twenty years ago or so for his health and "just to see how he liked it." (He has not had time to go back yet.) He had no capital excepting several manly qualities, including pluck, energy and perseverance and good judgment. But he worked night and day, wore old clothes, planted, irrigated, cultivated, pruned and fumigated, until Dame Nature dropped into his basket the fruit she has promised as a reward for diligent and intelligent striving.

A prominent fruit shipper who looked over the Lukens orchard the other day said that it was the finest he knew of in the state. The ten acres has produced since January last nine car loads of lemons and is now ready for a picking which promises to yield five car loads more. The trees, the lower branches of which rest on the ground, completely shading the trunks, are laden with fruit from top to bottom. The satisfactory results obtained in this orchard have been brought about by keeping the soil constantly moist and cultivated. Water is supplied by a well and the orchard is irrigated about once in three weeks during the summer season; every portion of the ground is irrigated by a system of cross furrowing which makes rough basins that are finished off with the shovel before the water is turned in. Cultivation is going on almost constantly during this time of the year so that the soil never dries out nor bakes. A railroad is going by this orchard presently, but the owner is not figuring on town lots. He will just keep right on producing car loads of the finest lemons grown in the state.

OUR SCHOOLS

High School Opens on Tuesday
Next—Contract Awarded for New High School Building

The High School opens for the fall session next Tuesday, the 8th. The teachers hold their first meeting of the term Monday afternoon. Judging from the numerous inquiries received by Prof. Moyle from near by and also from outside points, the school will be more crowded than ever before, notwithstanding the withdrawal of a portion of the Burbank contingent. It is expected that the Burbank pupils of the twelfth year will continue at Glendale and complete the course here.

Miss Traphagen is unable to take up her work and has been granted a leave of absence. She has not entirely recovered during vacation from the effects of her too close application to work, last year.

Miss Flood has returned from her European visit and will be welcomed again by faculty and pupils. Miss Mary Knepper, a daughter of the president of Highland University, Kas., is one of the new teachers.

The trustees of the Union High School District held a meeting Saturday last and opened the bids for the construction of the new High School building. The difference in the amounts given in the bids is rather striking. The lowest, put in by Guy S. Bliss of Pasadena, was $45,807, and the highest, $59,850. Six of the bids were below $50,000. On Tuesday the board met again and awarded the contract for construction to Mr. Bliss and for the heating, machinery and electrical work, to the Machine and Electrical Company of Los Angeles, the amount in the latter case being $5992. The brick used in the structure are to be cream pressed. This may be the cause of some delay in completion, as it is understood that these bricks are not being made fast enough to supply the demand, but it is expected that the work will be completed by April 1st. The buildings on the site, with the exception of the largest house, have been sold and are to be removed within fifteen days. The bungalow built by Mr. F. G. Taylor, was the only structure actually in the way of the new building and that has been sold to Mr. F. W. McIntyre and will be removed promptly. It is understood that the successful bidder has promised to give all the work possible to our local people.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

The grounds are being cleared up, repairs made and some painting done in preparation for the fall session, which opens on the 28th. New blackboards are also to be put in some of the rooms. By the date named it is expected that two rooms of the new schoolhouse on Sixth street will be ready for occupancy. This building is being pushed on rapidly by Contractor Anderson, who has a large force of men at work. The substructure is completed and the wall of cement foundation all around the building is evidence of the solidity of the structure, which promises to be the best that can be procured for the money. In the new school building the four lower grades only will be accommodated at present under the direction of Misses Walte and Hatch. The assignment of teachers in the Fourth street school is as follows: Eighth grade, Mrs. Ryan; Seventh, Miss McIntyre; Sixth, Miss Richards; Fifth, Miss Hendershot; Intermediate, Miss Howlett; Third, Miss Schultz; Second, Miss Best; Primary, Miss Christensen.

A PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENT.

The Prohibition League of Glendale held its second meeting on Monday evening last, at the old city hall. Seven prominent citizens connected themselves with the league. The various committees reported progress. Discussions were held on parade, new members, on temperance literature and on the principles of the league. Several interesting papers were read. It was resolved to subscribe for twenty copies of the "Voice," the Prohibition organ of California. Old men and young men enjoy these meetings alike, all being interested in the overthrow of the liquor traffic from our fair land.

Rev. C. S. Fackenthal, who joined us this evening, will address the league at its next meeting on Monday evening, Sept. 7th, at the city hall. Everybody is invited to attend and listen to his talk, which no doubt will be interesting.

We trust many of the good citizens of Glendale will encourage this movement by giving us their presence and aid, as our league is not altogether a political body, but one that is designed to encourage the temperance cause, to keep out forever from our town all saloons and other disreputable places. We are growing; will you help us grow?

SECRETARY.

HUNTER-ROSS.

Last Wednesday afternoon at the residence of her parents on San Fernando Road, Miss Ross, the daughter of Mr. Thomas Ross, was married to Mr. Samuel Hunter. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Henry. After the ceremony the happy couple, relatives and friends enjoyed a sumptuous dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will be at home at the Hunter homestead on the San Fernando Road.

Candidate Bryan asks "Why is the Republican party so much more extravagant than the Democratic party in the expenditure of public money?" It seems quite possible that the answer is found in the fact that the people have seen to it that the Democratic party has not been given a chance to show just how good a spender of public money it is. Mr. Bryan is trying hard to make a virtue of necessity.

SOME SENSIBLE SUGGESTIONS.

We take pleasure in the publication of the communication from Dr. D. W. Hunt that appears elsewhere in our columns. It touches on a subject of vital importance and the rules given should be made known to every individual, while all should understand that the precautions here required are only in a line with the duty which every individual owes to society. The germ theory of the origin and spread of certain diseases, is too well established to permit of doubt as to its truth.

Extremists doubtless lay too much stress upon it, particularly in regard to the danger of contagion from consumptives, but the precautions suggested in the rules referred to are consistent with common sense and cleanliness and should not be disregarded. As suggested by Dr. Hunt, these rules should hang in every school room and their importance be impressed upon the students by the teachers.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH KANSAS?

Think of it. The total indebtedness of all the towns and cities, the 165 school districts and twenty-nine townships in Butler county is $205,050. The county has never issued a bond to anybody since its organization. Just think of it. A county with $37,000,000 taxable valuation and a total indebtedness of $205,050. And just think of it. But few farms in the county are mortgaged. And just think of it some more. The state is practically out of debt. We have no mortgages on our farms; our schoolhouses are all built and paid for; the townships are free from indebtedness, while the county has no outstanding obligations. The 25,000 people of this county have $3,000,000 on deposit in their home banks. Is there a county anywhere that can make as good a financial exhibit?—El Dorado Republican.

The above record of a Kansas county is certainly remarkable, but it is in a great measure typical of the whole state comparatively, although as stated it is probable that the record of Butler cannot be equalled. No one is foolish enough to claim that any political system, policy or party is responsible for this happy condition of affairs. But it is a matter of historical interest that in 1896 the same gentleman who is the candidate of the Democratic party for president at this time, was then endeavoring to get votes for the same office very largely upon the plea that the mortgaged farms of Kansas called aloud for the continuance of the Democratic party in power. The same candidate was telling his auditors in his public speeches that the low price of farm products would continue until the policy of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 should be adopted. It is at least a curious coincidence that as soon as his defeat was announced the price of products began to advance, the volume of business to increase and that within the period covered by the first term of McKinley the majority of the farm mortgages in Kansas had been cancelled. It is not to be wondered at that the voters whose memories reach back far enough to cover this period, refuse to take the candidacy of W. J. Bryan seriously.

THE TROUBLE AT ATLANTIC CITY.

The state of New Jersey has a law prohibiting the sale of liquor on Sunday. It also has a governor who believes that the laws of the state are made to be enforced and has an old-fashioned idea that in view of his oath of office it is his duty to see that this is done. Atlantic City is a populous and popular seaside resort, about fifty miles across the state from Philadelphia. A law prohibiting the sale of liquor on any day of the week, especially on Sunday, is unpopular in Atlantic City, so unpopular, indeed, that a grand jury could not be secured that would bring in an indictment against the big hotels who violated the law openly. After trying to get a grand jury to do its duty and finding that public opinion was in sympathy with the lawbreakers, Governor Fort announced that he would, if necessary, put the place under martial law and send troops there to enforce it. It looked for awhile as if the governor would be required to make his threat good. The judge of the licensing court of Monmouth county testified that in his belief it was almost impossible to enforce the laws which were frequently violated and would never be obeyed. But the governor stood firm and the result was that the liquor men got together and concluded to let the governor have his way about it. Last Sunday Atlantic City was perfectly "dry." New Jersey is to be congratulated upon her governor. He is not a political prohibitionist. He is just a good official with the proper kind of backbone and he has won a great victory. There promises to be a lively fight in the next session of the New Jersey legislature over the unpopular law and it will probably be repealed; but until that occurs the indications are that Atlantic City will be a "dry" town on Sundays.

The theory of "Prohibition" is either right or wrong. The good citizen should find it difficult to sympathize with that unworthy argument, that it "hurts business." If it is wrong, it should be opposed because it is wrong and not because it takes dollars out of somebody's pocket. Wrong things should not be tolerated because they bring dollars into the pocket of the tolerator. In the Atlantic City case there is room for the suspicion at least that the people do not oppose the enforcement of the law because they believe it wrong, but because it interferes with their income.

OUR STREETS AND PARKWAYS.

Glendale is rapidly acquiring one of the finest systems of public streets that can be claimed by any municipality in Southern California. The work that was so well begun, less than two years ago, continues at a rapid rate and promises to comprise ultimately every street in the city. There are some defects in the good work, however, noticeably in the absence of sidewalks along some portions of streets otherwise fully improved. These breaks in the uniformity of our street work are particularly noticeable when they occur, and lead to queries on the part of observers as to why a block here or two or three lot fronts there should be exempt from the general plan of improvement. We believe, however, that the streets more recently improved have not this defect. The most serious problem, however, is what we shall do with our parkways and vacant lot fronts. Right in the heart of our city the weed crop is most luxuriant, while in the outskirts of town, or just without the city limits, there are stretches of sidewalk that can scarcely be traced, so covered are they by overhanging weeds. These stretches of cement work present a melancholy appearance as they start off from some well-traveled street and meander into the weedy wilderness. The just and equitable way to remedy this would be for the city authorities to have these parkways and lot fronts cleaned up and charge the work up to the frontage owners. Or to add to the tax levy a few cents per hundred for this purpose. The first plan is probably open to objections of a legal nature. A bill permitting municipalities to do this was brought before the last legislature, but does not seem to have become a law. It would seem that the league of sixth class cities should take this matter up; prepare a bill that will give the municipality full power to do this work and see that it is placed upon the statute books. Until this is done, however, some other means should be resorted to, so that the work may be done. We believe that a small tax levy for this purpose would be approved by our people. No small expenditure of money that can be suggested would yield such satisfactory results. The individual owner, particularly so if a non-resident, cannot be depended on to do this work; it must be done by the city. Glendale is coming to the front rapidly; the number of strangers turning their attention this way is rapidly increasing—we should be in a proper condition to receive visitors. This problem is not one that this community alone is called upon to solve. Streets in some other towns that we know of are in a similar condition, but we do not believe that the condition must necessarily continue. Let us set an example and show the others how to do it!

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Ed News: Scientific investigation regarding the proper course to pursue that we may secure surroundings—most conducive to general health, has given us "Health Boards." These officials are constantly on the alert, not theorizing or insisting on some pathy, but following up conditions, consequences and results; men of mature learning, careful observers, with one object only in view, removing disease, preventing contagion and improving hygienic surroundings. It should be the intent of every community to second this effort of health officials. Very much has already been accomplished by the wise council and aid of these guardians of public health, arresting plagues, preventing epidemics and securing immunity from infection.

One of the most prevalent diseases and one of the most insidious diseases to combat is that known as the "great white plague," commonly called "Consumption," which has particularly arrested the attention of these health officers, and called forth an essay called the "Prize Essay," from its gaining the proffered prize offered for the most exhaustive article on consumption, its cause and treatment. This article points out the hygienic treatment of this scourge, which has become so widespread and prevalent that no single community is free from it, also recognizing the scrupulous care required to prevent it from attacking every one susceptible to its infection, which has as a rule been entirely disregarded by the public or not recognized as essential to prevent the contamination.

On this point we in our recent report from the state health board find the following very pointed and most necessary rules laid down, as directions for protection of the public. This chart it would be well for every school to have printed in large type and hung in the halls; also to have the teachers in charge call the attention of the pupils to it and see that each pupil observed the rules here given.

On account of the increasing prevalence of the disease, the observation of some rule to control and prevent its contagion seems to be demanded of every well organized community.

To this end it has seemed proper to call the attention of the community to these rules that they may know the regulations demanded by the health officials, and given the opportunity to aid them in arresting one of the worst plagues known to humanity today. This set of rules was printed in the prize essay referred to as the most simple and effective method of arriving at the solution of its contagion in our schools and public places. Our railways have already taken note of this most necessary precaution, and printed notices for the stations and carriages, "expectoration on the floor or walk is prohibited. It is uncleanly and may be unhealthy." The rules are given below that are desired to be posted up and observed:

Rules.

Do not spit except in a spittoon, a piece of cloth, handkerchief used for that purpose, and on return home burn it or put it in water until washed.

Never spit on slate, floor, playground or sidewalk.

Do not put your fingers into your mouth.

Do not pick your nose or wipe it with your hand or sleeve.

Do not wet your fingers in your mouth when turning the leaves of books.

Do not put pencils in your mouth or wet them with your lips.

Do not hold money in your mouth.

Do not put pins in your mouth.

Do not put anything in your mouth except food and drink.

Do not swap apple cores, candy, chewing gum, half-eaten food, whistles, bean blowers, or anything that is put in the mouth.

Peel or wash your fruit before eating it.

Never cough or sneeze in a person's face. Turn your face to one side, or hold a handkerchief before your mouth.

Keep your face and hands and fingernails clean. Wash your hands with soap and water, before each meal.

When you do not feel well, have cut yourself, or have been hurt by others, do not be afraid to report to your teacher.

Keep yourself just as clean at home as you do at school.

Clean your teeth with toothbrush and water, if possible after each meal, but at least on getting up in the morning and on going to bed.

Do not kiss any one on the mouth, or allow anybody else to do so to you.

Learn to love fresh air, and breathe deeply and often.

The above are all sensible, and necessary rules, and ought to be observed and would prevent the possibility of contagion from any one who might have any tubercular germ floating in their system from contaminating others, are easily lived up to and can do no one any possible harm.

JARAD CHATNAM INJURED.

Mr. Jarad Chatnam had his leg injured at the planing mill about a week ago, by getting caught in some of the shafting, but still persisted in continuing at work. We regret to learn that he is now laid up with the injury, and is in a rather serious condition. Mr. Chatnam is about eighty years of age, and well known as a hardworking man, and we trust he will soon recover from his injuries.

A LITTLE CATECHISM.

Ed News: The foreign language newspapers in this country are just now publishing a little catechism of American citizenship to enable their readers to prepare themselves to pass the examination to become citizens of the United States. Simply and only to prepare oneself to answer these questions parrot-fashion would be a pretty slim preparation for citizenship, but one who could answer them offhand without making special preparation would show a pretty wide intelligence concerning American history and American institutions. I can't help wondering how many even of our native born voters can answer these questions offhand. It might be a good plan for the reader to study up this little catechism and then see how many of his acquaintances can pass the test. This is taken from a Swedish paper. I have seen it also in the German:

The Liberty fire extinguisher test given at Tropic Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week was a complete success, and demonstrated the usefulness of this article. Fires of wood and oil, built and set off near Logan's store, were extinguished in the space of a few seconds. Mr. A. L. Chandler, the agent, is highly pleased at the success of the demonstration.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist-Episcopal church of Tropic was entertained by Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Henry at the Methodist parsonage, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Cogswell of Los Angeles, who has been actively engaged in missionary work the past fifty years and who but recently returned from India, was present and delivered a most interesting address. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the program.

A farewell surprise party that was really a surprise was tendered Miss Eulalia Richardson last Friday evening. She was to depart for Stanford University to resume her studies and her friends could not let her go back without one more jollification. So all day the telephone had been busy, summoning the favored guests and when nightfall came the plotters gathered at the home of Mrs. Elias and proceeded en masse to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Richardson on Los Angeles avenue. Here games both indoors and outdoors under the watching light of Friday's new moon were enjoyed. When they tired of this they went to the dining room where refreshments were served. That they thoroughly enjoyed every minute was shown by their sprightly conversation and glad laughter.

The young people who are to be entertained Friday evening, Sept. 4, by Mrs. E. W. Richardson and Mrs. Alex. Mitchell, will be taken during the evening on a twentieth century journey throughout the various countries of the world. Prizes will be given to those making the best list of the different points of interest.

BARACA BOYS.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Oxnham entertained in a most charming and delightful manner the Baraca class of young men numbering sixty and We Sisters of the First Methodist-Episcopal church of Los Angeles, at their home, Friday evening. The beautiful grounds surrounding the Oxnham villa were brilliantly illuminated, while the tennis court presented glimpses of Fairland, with its decorations of greenery, flowers and myriads of twinkling lights.

Mr. Elmer Phillips, teacher of the Baraca class, who has but recently returned from the Philippine Islands, where he was actively engaged in Y. M. C. A. work, and Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Brodbeck of the Sabbath School of the First M. E. church, chaperoned the merry coterie of boys of the Baraca class and of the We Sisters.

MINSTREL SHOW.

The minstrel show with its happy songs, clever local jokes, given under the auspices of the ladies of N. P. Banks W. R. C. and ladies of the Thursday Afternoon Club, has come and gone, leaving most happy pleasant memories, comical pictures in one's mind's eye of seventeen ladies representative of a typical countyn in red dress, corked features and kinks, and well-filled treasury for the corps and club ladies. Two performances were given at G. A. R. hall, Wednesday and Thursday evening, which taxed the seating capacity of the hall. For several weeks Mr. Charles Peckham, who is recognized as a most successful song and verse composer, has been most assiduously drilling and training the seventeen ladies who so successfully second such a success at the two performances. The stage was profusely decorated in pepper boughs and sunflowers.

Mrs. C. L. Chandler presided at the piano. The end men, Tambo and Bones, with Miss Dewdrop as interlocutor, gave a number of jokes and local hits which received most vigorous and merited applause.

These countyn ladies left no one in doubt but that Tropic and Glendale are still on the map and very much in evidence. The program consisted of Opening Chorus, Tropic Coon Cadets; "My Palm Leaf Maid," Miss Arabella Jones; "Little Cotton Dolly," Miss Snowball; "Dear Old Moon," Miss Sunbeam; "Down the Ohio," Miss Dewdrop; "Walking 'Round in My Sleep," Little Eva; "Just Some One," duet, Pearl and Alice; "Don't You Cry, Ma Honey," Dorktown Quartet; "The Frisco Flea," Sis Tompkins; "Kentucky Babe," Miss Moonshine; "Ma On Best One," Rosalie May; Finale, Sis Simpkins and entire company; Tambo, Interlocutor, Bones, Little Eva, Miss Dewdrop, Sis Simpkins, orchestra leader, Sousarinski; director, Padersorkin.
